

FADE : Family Caregiver Needs-Assessment Scale For End-Of-Life Care For Senility At Home

Please evaluate it comprehensively, based on the family caregiver's perception, behavior, situation and other information obtained, for each item.

Satisfied: 0
Satisfied to a certain extent: 1
Unsatisfied to a certain extent: 2
Unsatisfied: 3

No	domain & item	evaluation
1. Needs for adaptation to senility bereavement
1	Does the desires of the older adult match those of his or her family members regarding end-of-life care?	0	1	2	3
2	Does the caregiver understand and accept the reality that death cannot always be prevented when attending to older adult?	0	1	2	3
3	Does the caregiver understand the symptoms indicative of imminent death from senility and have a system to provide care for the moment of death?	0	1	2	3
4	Is the degree of fatigue experienced due to mental/physical condition of the caregiver in conjunction with caregiving within a permissible range?	0	1	2	3
5	Does the caregiver understand and adapt to the fact that the activity of the older adult declines and the person tends to gradually fall asleep?	0	1	2	3
6	Does the older adult and his or her family members have quality of life/will to live?	0	1	2	3
2. Needs for essential skills in supporting a dignified death by senility
7	Does the caregiver administer and use the amount of medicine necessary at an appropriate time?	0	1	2	3
8	Is the caregiver able to properly use medical devices/assistive products?	0	1	2	3
9	Does the caregiver understand and adapt to edema and skin disorders caused by low protein?	0	1	2	3
10	Does the caregiver understand and adopt methods to relieve physical distress?	0	1	2	3
11	Does the caregiver understand and adapt to the patient's psychiatric symptoms such as delirium, depression, strong anxiety, and BPSD?	0	1	2	3
12	Does the caregiver understand and adapt to the fact that feeding and water intake decrease along the course of senility?	0	1	2	3
No.1～12 total		point

Saito M, Tadaka E, Arimoto A: Development of a family caregiver needs assessment scale for end-of-life care of senility at home (FADE), PLOS ONE 14(9): e0222235. 2019 [S1 Appendix]
<https://doi.org/10.1371/journal.pone.0222235>