

Parental Self-Efficacy Scale for Preventing Challenging Behaviors in Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder (PASEC), English version

Please circle (O) the number that is the closest to your thought for each statement.

Evaluation

0: disagree.

1: slightly disagree.

2: slightly agree.

3: agree.

No	domain & item	evaluation
Empowerment of children's sociality
1	I can communicate to my child that I am keeping a caring eye on him/her.	0	1	2	3
2	I can communicate to my child that I sympathize with him/her.	0	1	2	3
3	I can ascertain what my child wants to do.	0	1	2	3
Optimization of children's environment
4	I can create places where my child feels comfortable.	0	1	2	3
5	I can reduce stimulations that my child does not like.	0	1	2	3
6	I can create opportunities for my child to interact with people in a way that is appropriate for his/her growth and development.	0	1	2	3
No.1-6 total		point

Kabashima Y, Tadaka E, Arimoto A: Development of the Parental Self-Efficacy Scale for Preventing Challenging Behaviors in Children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, PLOS ONE, 2020.